ask me, love, to linger, for you know not what you say,
When my far and distant river, where the roses bloom so fair,
There's a duty calls, my sweet heart's voice is vain,
But your maiden who is waiting all in vain,
It is heart need not be sighing, If I'm not among the dying, I'll be there I'd have you take me, I've been faithful, don't forsake me, I must with you when the roses bloom again!
