Mine Is the Love That Will Last.

Words & Music by
Wm. C. Howard

Copyright 1912 by Jos. W. Stern & Co.
British Copyright Secured.

English Theatre and Music Hall rights strictly reserved.
Depositado conforme a la ley de Republica Mexicana en el año MCMXII por Jos. W. Stern y Cia., Propietarios Nueva York y Mexico.
What you can do to day; I yearn for your voice music laden, Your Rich only just in love; With you all the world would be sunshine, And

Vision the dull hours beguile, And all through my dreaming I Every dark cloud rolled away, And all of life’s sorrow would see your face beaming, And tenderly murmur the fade with the morrow, So only again let me say:

Refrain.

Mine is the love that will last, sweetheart,
When I am far, far away,

When fickle lovers are sighing,

And friendships fade with day;

Then deep in your heart true and tender,
Sometimes you'll think of the past,

And with a sigh you'll remember,

Mine is the love that will last.

Poco rall.  a tempo.

Last.