When I Told The Sweetest Girl The Sweetest Story Ever Told.

Lyric by FERD E. MIERISCH
and CHARLES R. M C CARRON

Music by OTTO MOTZAN

Copyright MCMXII by Jos. W. Stern & Co.
British Copyright Secured.
English Theatre and Music Hall rights strictly reserved.
Depositado conforme a la ley de Republica Mexicana en el año MCMXII por Jos. W. Stern y Cía; Propietarios Nueva York y Mexico.
tale is told the same sweet way; As long as there's a heart there'll be af-got a Par-a-dise right there; Love comes and goes without the slightest fection, As long as there is love this world will warn-ing, It leaves you may be hap-py, may be live, And just like all the rest I blue, But I will bless the day That found I loved life best, When some-one said "To you, my all I give."
Cupid looked my way, And whis-pered "I've got some-one here for you."
The sun beams seemed to shine like gleaming threads of woven gold,

The rose bud breathed the sweetest perfume that a flower could hold,

The robin red breast seemed to sing more sweetly than of old,

When I told the sweetest girl the sweetest story ever told.