When they Play

"THE RIVER SHANNON"

(I'M IN IRELAND ONCE MORE.)

Ballad.

Mildred Massie

EUGENE ELLSWORTH

Author of

"My Heart's Tonight In Loveland"
"My Sweet Alaskan Maid"
"Take Me To Melody Land" etc.

Moderato.

While a band was softly playing, in a park beneath the trees, And the strains of "River Shannon," floated on the summer breeze; On a old home near the Shannon, in old Erin o'er the sea; Then he Copyright, 1912, by Gene Ellsworth. 145 N. Clark St., Chicago.

Rights Reserved.
bench a lone man listened, and his cheeks with tears were wet. 'Twas the murmured "Nor-a, dar-lin'; sure, you said you'd not for-get. To be strains of "Riv-er Shan-non" and his words I'll ne'er for-get. wait-ing there Ma-vour-neen, tell me, are you wait-ing yet?

REFRAIN.

With expression.

"When they play the "Riv-er Shan-non" I'm in

When they Play the R.S.
Ireland once more, And I seem to see my sweet-heart as I left her on the shore, Where the River Shannon's flowing, and the three-leafed Shamrock grows, When they play the River Shannon, I'm in Ireland once more. When they play the R.S. 3...
"When They Play the River Shannon"

HARMONY CHO.

For Male or Mixed Voices. By GENE ELLSWORTH.
Arr. by Jean Walz.

Melody in 2d. Tenor.

1st TENOR (Male Quartet only)

When they play the "River Shannon" I'm in Ireland once more, And I

2nd TENOR (Melody)

When they play the "River Shannon" I'm in Ireland once more, And I

BARITONE

seem to see my sweetheart as I left her on the shore, Where the

BASS

seem to see my sweetheart as I left her on the shore, Where the River Shannon's flowing and the three leafed shamrock grows, When they

River Shannon's flowing and the three leafed shamrock grows, When they play the "River Shannon" I'm in Ireland once more.

play the "River Shannon" I'm in Ireland once more.