Good-bye Mother! So Long Dad! Hello Uncle Sam

Words by W. E. BROWNING
Music by C. A. GRIMM

The Sam-mies are going across the deep seas, And mother I must go too For it's my
When this war is over and we are at peace, Come back to your Dad and me But now you

Country that's calling, In line I'll be falling, And fight for the Red, White and Blue To know that they need you, Go lad and God speed you, For soon we must have Victory My poor bleeding France we will soon pay our debt, It's a debt we've owed for years Now dear Country we give you our one darling boy, That's as much as we can do Do your Mother do not cry, kiss your soldier Boy good-bye, There'll be millions of Volunteers bit and never fear, fight for all that you hold dear, The whole world will be watching you.

Copyright 1917, by C. A. Grimm, Lyceum Music Publishers, Chicago, Ill.
CHORUS

Good-bye Mother, So long Dad, Hello Uncle Sam. I'm only one of your loyal sons. Who honor and obey your command. Our great-grand-dad dies fought for liberty. And it's up to all of us to lend a hand. For now that we're in this fight, My country wrong or right, So Good-bye Mother, So long Dad, Hello Uncle Sam. So Sam.