Eyes That Say I Love You

By FRED FISHER

I've oft'en heard it said that eyes are win-dows of the soul,
And
A moth-er tells her ba-by just by look-ing in its eyes, in that lit-tle game of love, they play the lead-ing role, I've stud-ied ev'-ry col-or, and doc-tor with a sin-gle glance, knows where the trou-ble lies, We tell a cook that's clever that learnt to re-a-lize,

The won-drous charm that lies with-in a pair of ro-guish eyes.
she must Hoo-ver-ize,
But you can't tell a wom-an just by look-ing in her eyes.

CHORUS

Eyes
that are al-ways tell-ing lies, naught-y eyes, Eyes that are blue or grey What do they want to make those eyes at me for, at you for, Just to steal your heart away,

Eyes

that can fool the very wise, Wicked eyes, Eyes that can look you thru,
But of all the eyes I see, only two look good to me, They're the

you.
