Oh You Tommy
REMINISCENT OF TOM MOORE

Words by JOHN STARK
Music adapted from Scott Joplin

1. Sir Thomas Moore in lyric lore, Went all the gaites in
2. Like Byron Tommy should have known, Had he been worldly 3. Not all the things that Tommy sings Were like that rose of woo-in' "The light that lies in wo-man's eyes has wise The light that lies in wo-man's eyes in summer His rep'-toire the night be-fore was been my heart's un-do-ing" Though pale and chum of wo-man's eyes it lies, Each night at nine when some-thing of a hum-mer You'd never surmise from

Byron, Tommy, Tom was nothing like that sto-ic Who soused with wineTom thought the world was his A Tommy's eyes on cig-ar signs to-day. That stood per haps on Tara's steps And waved his hand heroic last next morn of courage shorn, He made a noise like this * verses he would write could be So shock-ing-ly ris-que

1st REFRAIN
BYRON Defiantly

Here's a sigh for those who love me And a smile for those who hate, And what-

D. C. never sky's above me, here's a heart for ev'-ry fate.

D. C.

2nd REFRAIN
Slow and mournful

'Tis the last rose of summer, Left blooming alone Her

D. C. al Fine
love-ly com-pa-nions All fad-ed and gone.

Oh You Tommy, 2