Broken Toy

Girls and boys some other day want pretty toys somewhere you may Cry for them every day Play with another heart Love something new But you may feel one day or two love that is real Break it and throw it away Just when you're drifting apart

You wanted me One heart that's true
I couldn't see Try it just for you

Love would soon depart And you only meant to play a while Since you said good-bye But another heart may prove untrue
With a loving heart Then perhaps you'll sigh

My love is like a Broken Toy A toy you craved for just a day
And thou it may have brought a moment's joy Something new captured you And you threw my love a way Tho' you forget I'm dreaming yet Of the little while when your sunny smile brought me joy I'm wondering if some day perhaps You'll stray back where you left me like a Broken Toy My Toy...
