Let's take a look in memory's book
Let's climb the hill down by the mill

Back to the school old swimmin' pool
Coasting well go roll in the snow

We'll just be kids once more until our cheeks grow red

Let's wander back where we used to sit and dream
Oh for the days of the olden golden past

Down by the old mill stream They were too good to last
CHORUS

Where are the days of long ago?

Those days are over those days are over all over

Where is the barefoot bashful beau?

the one who wrote "I love you so"

Oh!

Those Days Are Over
Sweet childhood days — so dear to you and me — Sweet wild-wood ways — are just a memory — Gee! but it makes me sad some how — Those days are over over now — now
