Singers and Public Speakers should use Dr. White’s Pulmonaria to strengthen and clear the voice; it is entirely harmless and pleasant to take. Old People like it and Children cry for it.

MOTHER’S WANDERING BOY.

Temperance Song and Chorus.

Music by THOMAS BELCHER.

Andante con espress.

Why from those who love you roam,
When I laid you down to rest
Nor in your fevered, my veil,
And curse thy God in wrath.

My heart, my love are all your own,
I will forgive the wrong.

Copyright 1886, by A. R. White, M. D.

COUGH.

Cough is not a disease, but simply a symptom by which diseases of the throat and lungs manifest themselves. It may be an effort of nature to throw off an accumulation of mucous or sputum from the throat and bronchial tubes, produced by taking cold; or from an effort of nature to throw off an accumulation of mucus or sputum from the lungs, produced by consumption.

If you have a cough, no matter how slight it may seem, whether from a recent cold, or a slight, hacking cough which may cause you very little inconvenience—but which is in nearly every case of consumption the premonitory symptom—be warned in time and do not delude yourself with the thought that it is only a slight cough which will soon pass away or wear itself out. Thousands are dying every year of that terrible disease, consumption, who, had they attended to their cases in time and used proper remedies to check the disease in its incipiency, might to-day be living in the enjoyment of health and the society of friends, and filling places of usefulness instead of filling the consumptive’s grave. This is no fairy tale nor “overdrawn sketch” to frighten the timid or deceive the unwary. In Dr. White’s Pulmonaria you are offered a safe and effectual cough remedy, and it matters not whether it be a recent or acute attack, or a chronic or lingering cough, this medicine is equally efficacious in removing it.

COPLEY SPRINGS, Ark.

Dr. W. B. Warren—Dear Sir: I am selling a great deal of your Pulmonaria, have a large demand for it and recommend it to all as the best cough medicine in the market, and I am not afraid to recommend it, as I had it thoroughly tried on one of my own children, and it was given up to die. After taking thirty five bottles of Pulmonaria he recovered, improved, and when he had taken three more he was well up and in my store, and said: “No more of this stuff and I will never buy any more.”

S. W. Brown.

Dr. W. B. Warren—Dear Sir: My son has been afflicted with consumption for years, and has tried many remedies without receiving any benefit from them. He finally gave your Pulmonaria a trial which gave him much relief, and in less than a month his cough was entirely cured. I am confident that had he procured it in time he would have been permanently cured. My wife also had the same terrible disease and under the use of your Pulmonaria she is rapidly recovering. I insistingly pronounce this the best medicine I ever saw, and I take pleasure in letting the public know my opinion of it and the good it is doing me and mine.

Yours truly.

Dr. W. B. Warren—Dear Sir:

Cough is not a disease, but simply a symptom by which diseases of the throat and lungs manifest themselves. It may be an effort of nature to throw off an accumulation of mucus or sputum from the throat and bronchial tubes, produced by taking cold; or from an effort of nature to throw off an accumulation of mucus or sputum from the lungs, produced by consumption.

If you have a cough, no matter how slight it may seem, whether from a recent cold, or a slight, hacking cough which may cause you very little inconvenience—but which is in nearly every case of consumption the premonitory symptom—be warned in time and do not delude yourself with the thought that it is only a slight cough which will soon pass away or wear itself out. Thousands are dying every year of that terrible disease, consumption, who, had they attended to their cases in time and used proper remedies to check the disease in its incipiency, might to-day be living in the enjoyment of health and the society of friends, and filling places of usefulness instead of filling the consumptive’s grave. This is no fairy tale nor “overdrawn sketch” to frighten the timid or deceive the unwary. In Dr. White’s Pulmonaria you are offered a safe and effectual cough remedy, and it matters not whether it be a recent or acute attack, or a chronic or lingering cough, this medicine is equally efficacious in removing it.

COPLEY SPRINGS, Ark.

Dr. W. B. Warren—Dear Sir: I am selling a great deal of your Pulmonaria, have a large demand for it and recommend it to all as the best cough medicine in the market, and I am not afraid to recommend it, as I had it thoroughly tried on one of my own children, and it was given up to die. After taking thirty five bottles of Pulmonaria he recovered, improved, and when he had taken three more he was well up and in my store, and said: “No more of this stuff and I will never buy any more.”

S. W. Brown.

Dr. W. B. Warren—Dear Sir: My son has been afflicted with consumption for years, and has tried many remedies without receiving any benefit from them. He finally gave your Pulmonaria a trial which gave him much relief, and in less than a month his cough was entirely cured. I am confident that had he procured it in time he would have been permanently cured. My wife also had the same terrible disease and under the use of your Pulmonaria she is rapidly recovering. I insistingly pronounce this the best medicine I ever saw, and I take pleasure in letting the public know my opinion of it and the good it is doing me and mine.

Yours truly.

Dr. W. B. Warren—Dear Sir:

Cough is not a disease, but simply a symptom by which diseases of the throat and lungs manifest themselves. It may be an effort of nature to throw off an accumulation of mucus or sputum from the throat and bronchial tubes, produced by taking cold; or from an effort of nature to throw off an accumulation of mucus or sputum from the lungs, produced by consumption.

If you have a cough, no matter how slight it may seem, whether from a recent cold, or a slight, hacking cough which may cause you very little inconvenience—but which is in nearly every case of consumption the premonitory symptom—be warned in time and do not delude yourself with the thought that it is only a slight cough which will soon pass away or wear itself out. Thousands are dying every year of that terrible disease, consumption, who, had they attended to their cases in time and used proper remedies to check the disease in its incipiency, might to-day be living in the enjoyment of health and the society of friends, and filling places of usefulness instead of filling the consumptive’s grave. This is no fairy tale nor “overdrawn sketch” to frighten the timid or deceive the unwary. In Dr. White’s Pulmonaria you are offered a safe and effectual cough remedy, and it matters not whether it be a recent or acute attack, or a chronic or lingering cough, this medicine is equally efficacious in removing it.

COPLEY SPRINGS, Ark.

Dr. W. B. Warren—Dear Sir: I am selling a great deal of your Pulmonaria, have a large demand for it and recommend it to all as the best cough medicine in the market, and I am not afraid to recommend it, as I had it thoroughly tried on one of my own children, and it was given up to die. After taking thirty five bottles of Pulmonaria he recovered, improved, and when he had taken three more he was well up and in my store, and said: “No more of this stuff and I will never buy any more.”

S. W. Brown.

Dr. W. B. Warren—Dear Sir: My son has been afflicted with consumption for years, and has tried many remedies without receiving any benefit from them. He finally gave your Pulmonaria a trial which gave him much relief, and in less than a month his cough was entirely cured. I am confident that had he procured it in time he would have been permanently cured. My wife also had the same terrible disease and under the use of your Pulmonaria she is rapidly recovering. I insistingly pronounce this the best medicine I ever saw, and I take pleasure in letting the public know my opinion of it and the good it is doing me and mine.

Yours truly.

Dr. W. B. Warren—Dear Sir:

Cough is not a disease, but simply a symptom by which diseases of the throat and lungs manifest themselves. It may be an effort of nature to throw off an accumulation of mucus or sputum from the throat and bronchial tubes, produced by taking cold; or from an effort of nature to throw off an accumulation of mucus or sputum from the lungs, produced by consumption.

If you have a cough, no matter how slight it may seem, whether from a recent cold, or a slight, hacking cough which may cause you very little inconvenience—but which is in nearly every case of consumption the premonitory symptom—be warned in time and do not delude yourself with the thought that it is only a slight cough which will soon pass away or wear itself out. Thousands are dying every year of that terrible disease, consumption, who, had they attended to their cases in time and used proper remedies to check the disease in its incipiency, might to-day be living in the enjoyment of health and the society of friends, and filling places of usefulness instead of filling the consumptive’s grave. This is no fairy tale nor “overdrawn sketch” to frighten the timid or deceive the unwary. In Dr. White’s Pulmonaria you are offered a safe and effectual cough remedy, and it matters not whether it be a recent or acute attack, or a chronic or lingering cough, this medicine is equally efficacious in removing it.
Write to Dr. A. R. White, Indianapolis, Indiana, for pamphlet on Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Consumption, which is mailed free to all applicants.

Chorus.

Tenor.

Come back, come back my wand- ing boy, Come back, come back once more to me;

Bass.

Mother's Wandering Boy.—(a)

Come back, come back, a mother's joy And love shall ever welcome thee.

CONSUMPTION OF THREE YEARS' STANDING.

DR. A. R. WHITE—Dear Sir: My mother has been suffering from that terrible disease, consumption, about three years; has tried various remedies and prescriptions from many physicians, but obtained no permanent relief from any of them until I procured your Pulmonaria for her. She has used four bottles of your medicine and is rapidly recovering. I can cheerfully recommend this medicine to all who are suffering from lung trouble.

Yours truly,

Beebe, White 6, Ark.

Justice of the Peace.

Dr. White's Pulmonaria was first put up in one size only, and was prescribed by the best physicians of the day. It proved so successful that the demand increased until a larger quantity of it was required, subsequent to which, the market was supplied by a twenty-cent bottle of Pulmonaria, which was met with such gratifying results that the twenty-five cent bottle was introduced, and has since been the standard size.

FROM THE "GAZETTE" (Indianapolis.)

"In this day and age of the world, when 'humbug' is the rule as well as the practice, a medical remedy that is all it claims to be is seldom found. When such one is found we consider it a duty obligatory upon those who have thoroughly tested its qualities, to place their testimony before the public. Dr. White's Pulmonaria is one of the most efficacious medicinal preparations for the absolute cure of coughs, colds and throat diseases, that we have ever tested. It is pleasant to take and affords almost instant relief. We bear cheerful and unsolicited testimony in its favor, and recommend it without hesitation to any who are afflicted with pulmonary disease, as possessing all the merit claimed for it as a specific by Dr. White.

HAD BRONCHITIS FOR TWENTY YEARS.

DR. A. R. WHITE—Dear Sir: I have been troubled with bronchitis for the last twenty years and with asthma, at times, the past ten years. I had tried so many remedies, but were of no use, until I received one of your circul-ars a few days ago. I called on my druggist for your Pulmonaria, but he had none, but said he had ordered some. I waited until it arrived, when I procured a bottle of it, and it has done me more good than all the other remedies I have ever used.

Yours truly,

Oskaloosa, Minn. JOHN HASTERLIN.

Remember that this is the only cough remedy in the market that is sold under a positive guaranty. Every druggist and dealer in medicines is authorized to sell one bottle of this medicine to any one person and refund the money if it fails to perform what is claimed for it. It is put up in bottles of three sizes, the large bottle selling at one dollar, and the small bottle at fifty and twenty-five cents, and is sold by druggists and medicine dealers generally. If your druggist does not have it, and will not get it for you when wanted, send me one dollar per bottle, or five dollars for six bottles (large size), and I will send it, prepaid, to your nearest express office. Beware of counterfeits and imitations, as there are such in the market under similar name which may be offered to you. Buy none without my signature at bottom of wrapper, thus:

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.