Just for the Sake of Your Mother

Words & Music by
LEW SCHAEFFER
PHIL LEVENTHAL

A boy stood embracing his mother.
A light in the window is burning.

Although a smile hid her wrinkles...
Gray-haired old mother is yearning...

Listen my boy said the mother so gray.
Remember these words that I say.

Copyright MCMXVII by Lew Schaeffer & Phil Leventhal
Chorus With feeling

Just for the sake of your mother. Keep on the right road each day. Remember you'll never have another. When the angels call her away. When all the world turns against you. There's one who will always be true. So just for the sake of your dear gray haired mother. Do what she wants you to do.