The Modern Maiden's Prayer

Lyric by

BALLARD MACDONALD.

Music by

JAMES F. HANLEY

When Grand-mawas a girl-ee it was the cus-tom
I-ma-gine if you can what it means to an-gels

Each night be-fore she did up her hair in curls, To To lis-ten to the want of a mo-dern maid, kneel and tell her trou-bles to the an-gels, And fill the bill would tax most an-y an-gel, And I, I, r, else you have to spare, Give me most any-thing

And diamonds like a queen, Give me most any-thing else you have to spare, Give me the boy that I am after,

Let me retain my girlish laughter, That's the Twen- ti-eth Centu-ry Maid-en's Pray'r. Pray'r.
