One Day In June
(It Might Have Been You)

Words by JOE GOODWIN
Suggested by JACK COOGAN

Music by JAMES F. HANLEY

made me think that some time you and I
Would kiss our tears away, Upon our wedding day,
But
Paradise of Love brings out its tear,
That's why each heart must break, Must break for someone's sake,
But
when I found your love had gone astray,
I had to find someone to pass the time away,
And bring a smile of joy to pay for every tear.

Refrain (With much expression)

One day in June,
You're going to feel lonesome,
One day in June,
You're going to feel blue.

Copyright MCMXVII by Shapiro, Bernstein & Co. Inc. 224 West 47th Street, New York
International Copyright Secured
All Rights Reserved
One day in June,
Midst the flow-ers' perfume, dear,
A honeymoon will be shining for me,
Your heart will cry, your face may smile, As I march up the aisle,
But I'll cry, too,
'Cause it might have been you.
One day in June,

Ask Your Dealer For
GRANADA WALTZ by Keiser
BOOGIE RAG by Sweatman
Our Instrumental Hits