The Music Of Wedding Chimes

Words by
EDGAR LESLIE

Music by
PETE WENDLING

Life is just a song, just a song to me:
From the day we were born, till the day we die;

I can always hear some new melody,
When I'm feeling blue,
Nothing adds to life like a lullaby;
Music always was,

It's a welcome sound;
Music makes the world go 'round.
Sunshine to the soul;
East, West and from pole to pole.

Chorus

There is music when a hand is playing; There is music in a robin's song: There is music in children's voices, While they are playing the whole day long. There is music in the famous op'ras;

With their love songs of olden times; But what sweet-hearts recall, as the greatest of all; Is the music of wedding chimes. There is chimes.
