Barney Carney promised he'd be true to Molly O. The day he went away to war about a year ago;
In every note that started off with 'Molly, dear, I'm coming home to you,' He didn't say what Barney wrote he called her 'Ma-cher-ie.' She read the name and said with shame: 'this week or day, nor did he say what year. And Molly O, said: 'wur-ra-woe, it's isn't meant for me.' All the neighbors noticed there were tear-drops in her all a joke I fear?" People said he'd have to wait un eye; And when they asked her how was Barney, she'd begin to cry:

back; And Mol - ly said, "why wait for them, why don't he take a hack?

My Barney lies o-ver the o-cean, My Barney lies o-ver the sea; Sure he said he went to war to help the wom-en, And I think he's helped him-self to two or three; Now he's got a lit-tle girl in Bel-gium, and one in Pa - ree, And I Know the lit-tle things he tells 'em, when they're on his knee, Sure my Barney lies o-ver the o-cean, Just the way he lied to me;" "My me!"
