I'm Wild About Moonshine

By CREAMER and LAYTON

Moderato

Piano

To-day I met a colored gal named Susan Anna Gray—She seemed as bright and cheerful as the flowers in May She said "I love the birds, the skies and the rain-drops that fall, But child you never could—surmise what I love best of all.

Chorus

I've gone wild I'm wild 'bout moon-shine, I'm crazy 'bout moon-shine, I've gone wild I'm wild 'bout moon-shine, I'm crazy 'bout moon-shine, mean it makes you spoon-y, — It sets you loon-y — I've gone wild from yearning, night and day, And I mean a little liquor, — That has a kick-er — I've gone wild from yearning, night and day, For I feel like pining when the moon is shining — Far, far away, — You get a feel that quiver of the Old Green River — Fading away, — You get a feller who is willing, a bench in the park, — Drag the feller, the bench to a cellar and a kettle, some yeast and some corn, — Little sugar, some raisins, and spot in the dark — Let him hug and kiss till he's satisfied — But always let your conscience boil 'em till morn — Let it stand a week and you'll learn with joy — 'Twill kick you like a jack-ass be your guide — I've gone wild I'm wild about moon-shine, that (Wow) oh boy — I've gone wild I'm wild about moon-shine, that moon-shine has made a wild, wild woman of me.
